

“Let the heights of heav’n adore him; angel hosts, his praises sing; pow’rs, dominions, bow before him and extol our God and King; let no tongue on earth be silent, ev’ry voice in concert ring evermore and evermore. Amen”

Aurelius Prudentius, 348-413 AD

The above quote is verse 4 of what is perhaps the oldest Christmas hymn that we have, “Of the Father’s Love Begotten” written by Prudentius in the 4th century. It’s still in our Hymnal (ELW #295) and set to an 11th century tune/plainsong “Divinum Mysterium” and happens to be one of my favorite - if not obscure - Christmas songs. You can listen to any number of versions on YouTube.

What most of us don’t know is that this old Christmas hymn was actually a theological salvo that was fired across the bow of the 4th century church. Is Jesus truly God? Or is Jesus somehow subservient - shall we say, less than God. Here in this ancient hymn the truth of our faith continues to be proclaimed, ‘bow before him and extol our God and King.’ This is the scandal of the incarnation; we confess that God became flesh in Jesus Christ. That Jesus is truly “God with us,” Emmanuel and has come that we might know the depths of God’s love for us and all creation. One of my favorite Irish theologians, Bono, puts it this way: “It’s actually logical. It’s pure logic. Essence has to manifest itself. It’s inevitable. Love has to become an action or something concrete. It would have to happen. There must be an incarnation. Love must be made flesh.”

And that is what Christmas is really all about. Scripture tells us that “God is love” (1 John 4.8) and at Christmas we celebrate the logic of Love becoming concrete, flesh and dwelling amongst us. As you prepare for Christmas I invite you to ponder the mystery of this Love becoming flesh. Perhaps a good place to start is taking a closer look at some of our beloved carols whose stanzas often provide a deep and provocative theology of incarnation: “Yet in thy dark streets shineth the everlasting light. The hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight” (O Little Town of Bethlehem); “Veiled in flesh the Godhead see! Hail incarnate deity!” (Hark! The Herald Angels Sing); “Nails, spear shall pierce him through, the cross be borne for me, for you; hail, hail the Word made flesh, the babe, the son of Mary!” (What Child Is This). Love must be made flesh - Come Lord Jesus!

In Advent Expectation, Pastor Jeff

Associate Pastor Forum with Pastor Nate

As we have journeyed together in this conversation about bringing on a full time Associate Pastor, you have resoundingly supported the idea of having Pastor Nate fulfill this role. On Sunday, December 12th at 11:30 AM Pastor Nate will be holding a conversation with all of us, offering his thoughts and insights in moving forward in this direction. Your church council invites all our members to attend as we want to make certain that the people of LCR have every opportunity to be in conversation, and this process will not go forward without the support of our members. We believe having Pastor Nate give us his input will be an important part of this process as we think about our future here at LCR. Please join us at 11:30-ish AM on Sunday, December 12 here at LCR.

Observing Advent: Light One Candle

Pastor Jeff's 2021 Advent devotional, "Light One Candle," printed booklets can be picked up at the church, or you can choose to receive daily emails or text messages. Call the church office to request that a print copy be mailed to you. LCR families are also invited to take home a special 'Advent Board' (with tea lights), to go along with your Advent Guide. Use them daily as a time of personal prayer to keep you centered on the gift of Jesus and the celebration of his coming into the world.

Many thanks to our talented woodworkers, Marlin Oeltjen, Jim Dettbarn, and Dennis Heppler, who made the boards for us!

Stewardship

I LOVE TO Tell the

Thank you to everyone who has so faithfully responded to our Lord's call to be good stewards of all that God has given us and pledged your support as we continue to tell the story of Jesus and his love. Here are the results as of December 1st: 179 Pledges Received for $575,669, representing 52% of our giving units; One-Time Special Gifts: $6,975.

If you have not yet returned your "commitment" to our shared ministry for 2022, please return this to the church office at your earliest convenience. Also, remember our sign of success is not the dollar amount, but the percentage of folks who return a "Commitment form." So even if you have to put "I don't know" or leave the amount blank, please turn in a card so we can reach our goal of 60% return.

End of the Year Giving

As we move forward into a new year the success of our ministry will depend on the gifts and support of faithful people like you! If God has given you the means to do so, we encourage you to make a special "End of the Year Gift" to LCR. As we anticipate brining on a full time Associate Pastor and continuing our outreach into the community, now more than ever all of us need to support this important work.

If You Open It... Lock It!!

Just a friendly reminder for each and every one of us: If you unlock a door at LCR, please remember to lock it when you leave. Likewise if you turn on a light, make sure you shut it off when you are through. This helps keep our campus safe and secure and helps us be good stewards of our finances.

Cozy Christmas Shoebox Project

We'd love to have you take part in our Cozy Christmas Shoebox Service Project on Sunday, December 5; shifts at 9:30, 10:30, and 11:30 am. We'll put together 200 shoe boxes, which will be distributed to families with children at the Churches of Marion Food Pantry.

We will be sorting the items, making treat bags, filling and decorating the boxes, and making Christmas cards to include with the boxes. You don't have to sign up - just come and help!

Thanks for helping those in need in our community!!

Hanging of the Greens

We will be putting up the decorations for Christmas on Saturday, December 4. We'll start at 9:00 am, but feel welcome to come anytime that morning. This event needs many hands as we work to make the church look festive to celebrate the birthday of our Lord. This will be the time to do both inside and outside decorations. Looking forward to seeing all of you on the 4th!

~ see page 9 for more Christmas information ~

Community Need

The Churches of Marion Food Pantry needs a Treasurer and an Auditor. Both people currently in these positions are retiring at the end of 2021, after having served for many years. If you are interested in learning more, please contact Cari@LCRMarion.org.

Wednesday Night Live students covered lots of big topics in November, including stewardship and prayer. And we still managed to get a game night in!

Lifetree Cafe

.... meets on the 2nd and 4th Fridays of each month from 12:00 to 1:00 pm. For those who are not familiar with Lifetree, it is not a Bible study or book group. Rather, we introduce a pertinent topic, provide some basic information, and then have both large and small group discussions. We have coffee ready and provide some pre-packaged snacks for those who want them. Please join us on Friday, December 10 for "Inventions: What Were They Thinking?" (no Lifetree on 12/24)

Current LCR policy is that masks are optional for those who have been fully vaccinated.

JAM (Jesus And Me)

JAM meets on the second Monday of each month at 1:00 pm in the YAC. We are a group of women who are currently studying the Proverbs. You are welcome to jump in to our group at any time! Contact Linda Hayward (lhayward495@yahoo.com) to get on our email list. Join us Monday, Dec. 13.

We use a study guide and encourage participants to read the questions in the guide before reading the text, noting which questions they would like to discuss. In recent sessions, we've discovered that reading the text in different versions of the Bible is helpful and interesting, and that checking the internet for commentaries on the Proverbs can help to clarify scripture meanings.

Biblical Potpourri - Sunday Mornings and Wednesday Nights

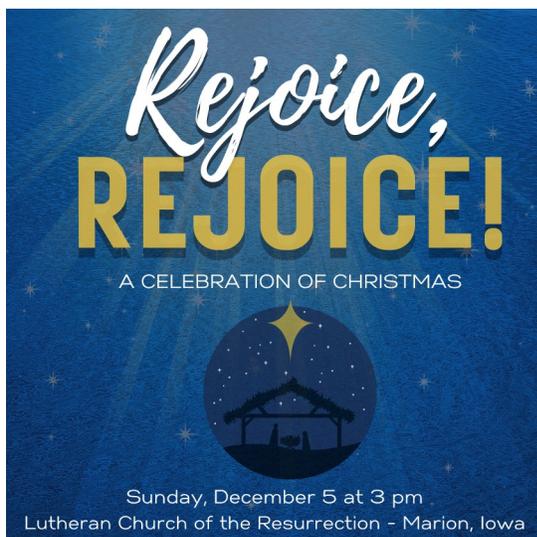

Pastor Jeff is offering a "Biblical Potpourri" as he takes us on a journey through scripture, looking at one verse/theme in each of the 66 books of the Bible! This is a great way to begin to understand the Bible as a whole and dive into some of those lesser-known parts of scripture. Come for every session, or just drop in as you are able - there's always a place for you. We're meeting at 9:45 am on Sundays and 7:00 pm on Wednesdays, both in the conference room. (no gatherings on 12/26 or 12/29)

Wednesday Scripture Study

There is no better way to prepare for worship than to be in conversation with the scriptures. Your thoughts and insights will help enlighten Pastor Jeff's weekly sermons and prepare you to get more out of worship. We meet each Wednesday at 11:00 am. This is an in-person study at the church, so we are social distancing in the fellowship hall. (no Wed. Scripture Study on 12/29)

The Gift of Remembering

by Rev. Kenneth C. Haugk, PhD

With the holidays quickly approaching, a season that's normally a time for celebration may have a more somber tone for some - particularly those who have lost loved ones in the past year or so. But there's a simple, powerful way anyone can offer care: giving the gift of remembering the grieving person's loved one with them.

Say the Loved One's Name

The gift of remembering begins with being willing to say the loved one's name. One of the most common misconceptions about grief is that talking about a person's loss or saying the name of the deceased will only cause more pain. But the reality is just the opposite - people want to talk about the loved one they've lost. That's why it's important to say the loved one's name. It lets the grieving person know that you're with them in their grief and invites them to talk about what they're going through. So, don't be afraid to mention the name of the deceased loved one, because saying their name opens the door to the gift of remembering.

Listening to and Sharing Memories

Once you've opened the door to remembering, be ready to listen to the grieving person's memories. Sharing memories is a way for them to express their love for the deceased, feel closer to their lost loved one, and experience comfort. Each conversation is different. Some people may want to talk and talk, while others may be eager to hear your recollections about their loved one. It varies by individual, so follow the other person's lead.

Embracing Every Emotion

One reason people often hesitate to bring up someone's loss is because they're worried about how the grieving person might respond. But here's a secret: Usually, the best response is simply to listen and embrace whatever emotions might come. Listening to, accepting, and validating a grieving person's emotions brings comfort. When you set aside your discomfort and focus on being present with the other person, you'll be providing exactly the kind of care they need.

Making the Holidays a Little Easier

Grief has no expiration date. Whether it's been a year, two years, or longer since someone lost a loved one, consider offering the gift of remembering to them, too. Doing that can make a difficult holiday season a little easier.
