Electronic Sign Update

Our electronic sign on 29th Avenue communicates to the community who we are and what we're about, and is a dependable way to engage the thousands of folks who pass by our location each and every day with our Good News.

Unfortunately, our sign is often not working. Due to its age, it is basically beyond the ability to repair. While it has served us well, the Property Team is looking at new signs that will be able to tell our story with clarity and attractiveness while providing ease of programming and a long life. This will be a substantial investment, as a quality church sign can run from $20,000 to $80,000. We are busy comparing models and prices, and will announce when we have made the best choice for our church home.

Lutheran World Foundation - Your Support Works!

Fleeing war, and coming to a strange country is a challenge. Even more so if you do not speak the language, or any foreign language at all. Like in all other country programs therefore, LWF in Poland does not only work with local staff, but also employs refugees from in its centers.

"I had to flee Ukraine, it was terrible. I had to leave my home, my job... I was forced to leave my country to protect my children," says Olga, who worked in a state bank in Odessa before. Working with refugees is not new to her, Olga has been assisting internally displaced people from the Donbass since 2014. She believes that as a refugee, she best understands the situation of the people LWF supports. At the same time, being able to work helps her and her family, not only financially: "This job makes me feel needed," Olga says.

90 percent of the staff in the LWF multipurpose cash assistance centers in Poland are refugees from Ukraine themselves, says Allan Calma, LWF Global Humanitarian Coordinator. Calma set up the centers in Poland together with the UN refugee agency UNHCR and the Evangelical Church of the Augsburg Confession in Poland, an LWF member church. "It made more sense to recruit refugees since the work entails active engagement and information gathering with refugees from Ukraine."

For the people seeking assistance, it was a relief to be welcomed by people from their own country. "We could see the joy and relief from visitors to the center at being welcomed and attended to by fellow Ukrainians. More importantly, from experience in working in other refugee contexts, LWF knows how critical it is for refugees to be able to engage in gainful employment and become self-sufficient." Calma adds.

Resurrection members and friends have given over $10,000 to Lutheran World Federation. Thank you!
